Dear Parents and Carers

Closure of further bubbles

As you can all appreciate the current situation is changing by the minute. Unfortunately, despite our best efforts to keep the school open as much as possible, this is hindered by the availability of staffing. As of this afternoon, further staff have acted upon the advice of their unions and are now unable to support face-to-face learning.

In addition to Mrs Tombleson's class, we are now going to have to revert to remote learning for Mrs Boakes' class and Mr Knight's class. They will both be contactable via email to support access to this learning in the coming days.

This is an incredibly difficult time for teachers and support staff who are torn between wanting to support our children as best we can and being guided by unions and the authorities. Our staff are excellent and they will continue to support your children remotely.

Unfortunately, at this late notice we will not be able to provide in school provision for 'key worker children' in these classes tomorrow. However, we will have this in place for Wednesday.

Tonight, it appears there may well be further announcements about what, as a Nation, we will need to do next. Please bear with us as we respond to the changes being thrust upon us without any prior warning.

Kind Regards

Mr Snow
